STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Central Government's resolve to bring reform in the legal system of the country, to make it more accessible to the common man and to imbibe the principles of rule of law, has, inter alia, began with the review of enactments which are obsolete, redundant and unnecessary. In fulfilment of this objective, the Central Government has undertaken a comprehensive review of laws and the legal system with a view to remove incoherent and redundant laws.

2. The primary initiative in this direction was taken to constitute a Committee to review the laws which are obsolete and redundant and can be repealed. A two member Committee was constituted for review of obsolete laws for repeal. The said Committee, based on various Reports of the Law Commission and P. C. Jain Commission, examined the Central Acts which are not relevant or no longer needed and which can be repealed either in whole or in part.

3. The two member Committee identified 1741 Central Acts out of existing 2781 Central Acts lying on the Statute-Book as on 15th October, 2014. The Acts identified for repeal by the said Committee are categorised as (i) 777 Central Acts identified for repeal wholly or in part; (ii) 83 Central Acts relating to State subjects to be repealed by State Legislatures; (iii) 624 Central Appropriation Acts enacted up to the year 2010; and (iv) 257 Appropriation Acts enacted by Parliament for the States under President's Rule to be repealed by such States. The Law Commission, in its 248th, 249th, 250th and 251st Reports on "Obsolete Laws: Warranting Immediate Repeal", inter alia, recommended for repeal of 289 Acts.

4. As a step forward towards this direction, the Central Government has undertaken the following initiatives towards achieving its objective to repeal obsolete and redundant laws. The following Acts, namely, (i) the Repealing and Amending Act, 2015 (17 of 2015) to repeal 35 Acts; (ii) the Repealing and Amending (Second) Act, 2015 (19 of 2015) to repeal 90 Acts have been enacted and (iii) the Appropriation Acts (Repeal) Bill, 2015 (to repeal 758 Appropriation Acts) as passed by the House of the People on 11th May, 2015 is pending in the Council of States. On remaining Acts, action for repeal is at different stages.

5. As part of the ongoing initiative of the Central Government, the present proposal is to repeal 295 obsolete and redundant laws lying unnecessarily on the Statute-Book. An appropriate saving clause has been incorporated in the Bill. On being enacted, it would reduce obsolete laws and bring in clarity to those for whose benefit the laws are enacted.

6. The Bill seeks to achieve the aforesaid objectives.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 was enacted to define and amend the law relating to Promissory Notes, Bills of Exchange and Cheques. The Banking, Public Financial Institutions and Negotiable Instruments Laws (Amendment) Act, 1988 inserted in the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 (herein referred to as the said Act), a new Chapter XVII, comprising sections 138 to 142. Section 138 of the said Act provides for penalties in case of dishonour of cheques due to insufficiency of funds in the account of the drawer of the cheque.

2. As sections 138 to 142 of the said Act were found deficient in dealing with dishonour of cheques, the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 2002, inter alia, amended sections 138, 141 and 142 and inserted new sections 143 to 147 in the said Act aimed at speedy disposal of cases relating to the offence of dishonour of cheques through their summary trial as well as making them compoundable. Punishment provided under section 138 too was enhanced from one year to two years. These legislative reforms are aimed at encouraging the usage of cheque and enhancing the credibility of the instrument so that the normal business transactions and settlement of liabilities could be ensured.

3. The Supreme Court, in its judgment dated 1st August, 2014, in the case of Dashrath Rupsingh Rathod versus State of Maharashtra and another (Criminal Appeal No. 2287 of 2009) held that the territorial jurisdiction for cases relating to offence of dishonour of cheques is restricted to the court within whose local jurisdiction such offence was committed, which in the present context is where the cheque is dishonoured by the bank on which it is drawn. The Supreme Court has directed that only in those cases where post the summoning and appearance of the alleged accused and the recording of evidence has commenced as envisaged in section 145(2) of the said Act, proceeding will continue at that place. All other complaints (including those where the accused/respondent has not been properly served) shall be returned to the complainant for filing in the proper court, in consonance with exposition of the law, as determined by the Supreme Court.

4. Pursuant to the judgment of the Supreme Court, representations have been made to the Central Government by various stakeholders, including industry associations and financial institutions, expressing concerns about the wide impact this judgment would have on the business interests as it will offer undue protection to defaulters at the expense of the aggrieved complainant; will give a complete go-by to the practice/concept of 'Payable at Par cheques' and would ignore the current realities of cheque clearing with the introduction of CTS (Cheque Truncation System) where cheque clearnace happens only through scanned image in electronic form and cheques are not physically required to be presented to the issuing branch (drawee bank branch) but are settled between the service branches of the drawee and payee banks; will give rise to multiplicity of cases covering several cheques drawn on bank(s) at different places and adhering to it is impracticable for a single window agency with customers spread all over India.

5. In view of above, the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Bill, 2015 proposing a principle for determination of the place of jurisdiction for cases relating to dishonour of cheque under section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 was introduced in Lok Sabha on 6th May, 2015 and considered and passed by it on 13th May, 2015. However, the said Bill could not be taken-up for consideration in Rajya Sabha, since the House was adjourned sine die on 13th May, 2015. As Parliament was not in session and immediate action was required to be taken by the Central Government, an Ordinance, namely, the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Ordinance, 2015 was promulgated by the President on 15th June, 2015.

6. Now, it is proposed to introduce the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Bill, 2015, to replace the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Ordinance, 2015 (Ord. 6 of 2015). The Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Bill, 2015, inter alia, provides for the following namely:—

(i) cases relating to dishonour of cheques under section 138 of the said Act to be inquired and tried only by a court within whose local jurisdiction the branch of the bank, where the payee or the holder in due course maintains the account, is situated;

(ii) cases under section 138 pending in any court before the commencement of the proposed legislation to be transferred to the court in accordance with the new scheme of jurisdiction for such cases as proposed under sub-section (2) of section 142;

(iii) where a complaint has been filed against the drawer of a cheque in the court having jurisdiction under the new scheme of jurisdiction, all subsequent complaints arising out of section 138 of the said Act against the same drawer shall be filed before the same court, irrespective of whether those cheques were presented for payment within the territorial jurisdiction of that court;

(iv) where, if more than one prosecution filed by the same payee or holder in due course against the same drawer of cheques is pending before different courts, upon the said fact having been brought to the notice of the court, the court shall transfer the case to the court having jurisdiction as per the new scheme of jurisdiction proposed under sub-section (2) of section 142; and

(v) amending Explanation I under section 6 of the said Act which relates to the meaning of expression “a cheque in the electronic form”, as the said meaning is found to be deficient because it presumes drawing of a physical cheque, which is not the objective in preparing “a cheque in the electronic form” and therefore, inserting a new Explanation III in the said section giving reference of the expressions contained in the Information Technology Act, 2000.

7. It is, therefore, proposed to provide for a place of jurisdiction, which is fair to both the parties (the complainant and the accused), so that a fair trial is ensured in cases filed for dishonour of cheques under section 138 of said Act, keeping in view the observations of the Supreme Court in the case of Dashrath Rupsingh Rathod. Further, the clarity on jurisdictional issue for trying the cases of dishonour of cheques would increase the credibility of the cheque as a financial instrument. This would help the trade and commerce in general and allow the lending institutions including banks to continue to extend financing without the apprehension of the loan default on account of dishonour of cheques.

8. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.
